

Campaign for Free Education

Proposer: Issy Cooke

Seconder: Amal Osman

This Union Notes:

1. The crisis of poverty, debt and lack of future, which faces students who graduate today.
2. That NUS conference 2014 voted to campaign for free education, the creation of jobs with a living wage and security, an end to cuts and rebuilding public services – funded by taxing the rich, business and the banks.
3. That a coalition of student unions and student campaigns, supported by NUS sections, are organising a national demonstration on 19 November under the slogan “Free education: no fees, no cuts, no debt”.

This Union Believes:

1. With a year until the general election, there are clear opportunities to make substantial gains for students, if we put out a clear message and mobilise a movement
2. That we should campaign for the same demands as NUS: free education and living grants to end student debt, and decent jobs on a living wage and with job security for all.

The Union Resolves:

1. To suggest that City University Students Union support Free Education as a manifesto pledge to put on the long list for the students union general election hub.
2. To also emphasise how cuts, unemployment and debt hit the most oppressed hardest, and the liberation aspect of these policies.
